TO EVERY THING THERE IS A SEASON

DIVERSITY IS OUR STRENGTH

Volume 2, Issue 12

December 2004

According to Ecclesiastes every thing has it's season; it's time. For most of the world's major religions, especially Christianity, this is the season of Peace, Hope and Reflection.

and collectively, to help improve life for all of our Friends and Neighbors, and build a better Community.

It is a time when we pray for Peace, Hope for a better world for ourselves and our children, and Reflect on what was, what is and what will be.

It is the time of year to celebrate Family, Friends, Community and Faith.

It is the time of year, whether you celebrate Ramadan, Hanukkah, Kwanza, or Christmas, to stop and reflect that we all inhabit the same small planet; breathe the same air, and dream the same dreams for ourselves and our children.

It is the time of year to give thanks for all that we have, and reach out to those in our Community who are less fortunate, realizing "but for the Grace of God" we could be walking in their shoes.

It is the time of year to shovel a Senior's sidewalk, help someone across the street, purchase food for a less fortunate Neighbor, or just smile and say "Hello" to everyone we meet.

The Officers and Executive Board of the Fairview Community Council wish you and yours Peace, Hope and Prosperity this Holiday Season and in the coming year!

It is the time of year to think about what each of us can do individually,

REA AND CHAMARD REPORT ON TRIP

During the November 11, 2004 FVCC General Membership meeting Noel Rea and Sharon Chamard reported on their visit to a Cornell Companies' facility in San Antonio. Noel and Sharon went to San Antonio at the end of October to assess the impact of one of Cornell Companies' facilities, the Texas Adolescent Treatment Center (TATC) on the surrounding community. They spent half a day touring the facility and meeting with staff members. While it was not their purpose to judge the operation of problems associated with the facility. An owner of a self-storage business said he had had one incident involving broken windows, the Fairview Rec Center, on Saturday November 13th.. TATC to complain and was not impressed with their response. However, he also said he suspected the real source of the vandalism, and other problems as well, is a 24-hour Jack-in-the-Box restaurant. Following Noel & Sharon's presentation, and a presentation by Cornell and a representative of developer Mark Marlow, the Member-problems associated with ship asked several pointed questions of the presenters. A Special Meeting devoted to the subject was held at the Fairview Rec Center, on Saturday November 13th.. TATC to complain and was not impressed with their response. However, he also said he suspected the real source of the vandalism, and other sides of the issue attended the hearing. Shortly after the hearing, the Commissioner of Health & Human Services announced that he would not issue CON's for these types of facilities before June 2005.

DELANEY PARK MASTER PLAN "SLOWED"

The Municipality of Anchorage recently announced that the Delaney Park Master Plan was being "slowed down". To date the public process for development of a Delaney Park Master Plan has included two meetings with the CAG, and a Public Open House in June. The Municipality's consultant, Tryck Nyman Hayes, Inc., and "E" Street Redevelopment Projects to 'catch up' to the Delaney Project. The intent is for work on all three projects to be coordinated so that all the projects will compliment each other. It is estimated that it will take approximately nine to twelve months for the other two related projects to catch up. At that time, the Delaney Project will be re-started, and work will continue on all three projects in a fully coordinated manner. For further information, questions, or comments please contact: Jerry Hansen: 343-8135 or Dave Gardner: 343-8127

2004: A BUSY YEAR FOR FAIRVIEW

In March the Executive Board, working with Assemblyman Allan Tesche had $100,000 for a 16th Avenue Design Study included in the April Bond Package, and the Council held it's annual election of officers.

On March 27th Senator Johnny Ellis & Representative Les Gara held their Annual Constituent Pizza Party. Also in March, Allen Kemplen introduced a Resolution, co-sponsored by 13 Council Members, urging the Municipality to expand the scope of the proposed 9th Avenue Project.

On Saturday, May 8th, the Council and the Community rolled up their collective sleeves for our Annual Spring Clean Up Day!

The week of June 5th-12th, Fairview celebrated Neighborworks Week with a couple of great Community Projects sponsored by Neighborworks and Anchorage Neighborhood Housing Services.

The Community came out in force to help "Make A Difference in Fairview"! Pride & Diversity Day" in Anchorage.

On Wednesday, June 16th, several community leaders, including Mayor Charles & Celeste Begich, Senator Ellis, Representative Gara, Assemblyman Tesche, and friends, including Mayor Mary Jane Michael were taken on a tour of Fairview by FVCC President Senator Johnny Ellis, Darrel Hess. One of the major focuses of the tour was the need for improvements to zoning and code enforcement.

And for good measure, a plane fell out of the air!

On Saturday, July 17th, during our Annual Fairview Community Block Party, Mayor Begich read a proclamation declaring the day "Fairview Community

ANCHORAGE NEEDS YOU!

Across the nation, there has been a well known shortage of election workers. Anchorage is no exception. We have capable election workers who have been dedicated for many years; however, some are looking for different challenges or sometimes aging out.

Each year, we are scrambling to find the nearly 600 required election workers to work the precincts on Election Day.

Election Workers are PAID! Regular Election Workers are paid $9.50 per hour, Chairpersons, Absentee stations, Canvass Boards, and Commission members are paid $12.00 per hour.

Anchorage's Municipal elections are held the first Tuesday of April each year. The task requires short term commitment and professional focus.

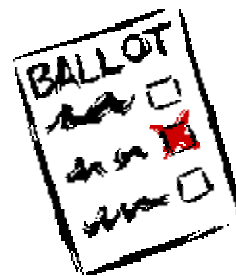

The pay received for working the election could be a great summer vacation fund! You will also be doing a service to your community.
