In 1994, Point Woronzof Park was created as permanently dedicated municipal parkland as part of a compromise land trade agreement between the city and the airport, to protect the serene woods, coastal areas, stunning views, peaceful atmosphere and wildlife habitat that buffer the Coastal Trail in this area.

In addition to celebrating the 20th anniversary of this beautiful, 191-acre area of coastal tidelands and upland natural open space, this event will highlight how the original Friends of the Coastal Trail worked to create the park, as well as celebrate newly installed park identification signs along the trail, donated by original Friends of the Coastal Trail members Dan and Cathy Gleason.

To view the location of Point Woronzof Park, download the Anchorage Parks app and use the way-finding and passport features.
