

Tudor Area Community Council

October, 2022 Notes

Welcome back to first in-person meeting since around February meeting 2020. We were welcomed and given a new and more conducive meeting room from our new owner/hosts, God's Family Church and Achieve Alaska. Meg Zaletel and Felix Rivera were present and each gave reports based on what they are doing with the Assembly, generally, and then specifically with the issues and committees they are most involved with. A representative from Elvi Gray-Jackson's office was there and highlighted the bills that Ms. Jackson had gotten passed and signed into law during the last legislative session. Questions were asked and answered to inform members, in more detail, about issues that sitting members had presented. Geran Tarr, the legislative representative for City view-Airport Heights, Russian Jack Mountain View, and a part of Downtown districts. She presented what she has done and accomplished in the Legislature over her many terms and her overview of the Alaska Legislative process. She answered questions to clarify any of the issues or new ones that she had talked about.

We were then given a grand tour of the facility and the many programs, outreach and aspirations of this church group for improving the lives and well being of poor, under served, and homeless Anchorage citizens. We were impressed with their hospitality, excitement about their varied programs and missions and openness to questions posed by council members and guests. The meeting adjourned around 8:30 pm.

Old Business

None.

New Business

No requests from any outside groups have been made to present at this meeting. Pastor King will give a more in depth presentation regarding the social programs that the church and Achieve Alaska have and are building in Anchorage. Also he may speak on how their programs may integrate with other programs and services within the Anchorage area and answer questions. Anyone in the Tudor Area Community Council area that is bounded by 36th Ave., Lake Otis Pkwy, Tudor Rd and New Seward Highway is welcome to come and participate in the meeting as well as any other interested people in the Anchorage community.
